Gary,

Attached, please find the purchase application and additional requirements when an LLC is the purchaser. I have a call in to the General Manager of the building to discuss which, if any, of the requirements can be waived, but there are several items that will require the assistance of the accountant and the client himself.

Based on our discussion, I am not planning to provide you with all the details of the application and of our review of the board minutes (although I am happy to do so if anything has changed). However, I thought you should be aware that, for now, this building requires a detailed application package, including personal and financial reference letters, asset and liability statement and a background check. There are also physical and management aspects of the building that will need to be explained to the client so that he can make a decision about whether or not to proceed with the purchase.

Please let me know who will be my point of contact with the client with respect to our diligence and preparing the purchase application.

Best,
Ariel
